

2012 ...

Dieter heard Sabrina singing from a spot somewhere in the background during a Gospel concert in 2012 and was impressed with her voice, her musicality and her rooted approach to life in general. After the show, trying to locate her on the lovely small Island of Grenada proved to be more difficult than expected, but one year later they made music for the first time together and the chemistry was just right to start a musical journey.

2013 ...

Sabrina's song "This Is Home" was used by the Grenada Tourism Authority to promote Grenada as a holiday destination. Sabrina & Navigators played couple of shows in Grenada and as a highlight the band traveled to Switzerland for 8 concerts and made a lot of new friends.

2014 ...

Sabrina was raised in a very musically family, all of her sisters are also love singing and by mimicking their mother Donyasia, they learned how to harmonise a melody and write songs. For the first time, the 3 sisters Sabrina, Jemilla, Simone and their mother Donyasia did a concert named "Family Matters" consisting of original songs. Inspired by this experience, Sabrina decided to form a new band focusing on polyphonic singing. Before they knew it, FLOM (For the Love of Music) was one of the most requested live bands on the island and did over 100 concerts within the region.

2015 ...

FLOM traveled to Europe and did 10 concerts. Later on that year Sabrina & Dieter started focusing on new songs and spent a lot of time in the studio working on Sabrina's first album.

2016...

Samuel Baur (CH) produced Sabrina's album. "THINK IN COLOURS" was recorded on The Lightship and was released in April, once that was done, Sabrina Francis & FLOM opened on the main stage of the PURE GRENADA MUSIC FESTIVAL. During this festival Sabrina met Joss Stone and did a small collaboration with the UK soul singer. In fall of 2016 FLOM travels once more to Europe, this time performing in Switzerland & Italy.

2017...

Mr Killa, Grenada's #1 soca artist is regular guest for the weekly live concerts on the lightship with Sabrina & FLOM. Sabrina does some collaborations with him and was guest singer for Mr Killa's production for the 2nd Pure Grenada Music Festival. In November 2017, F.L.O.M intends to do some more connecting in Europe. Their tour now spans over four countries, Switzerland, Germany, Austria and Italy. They're looking forward to warming the hearts of whoever chooses to listen to their acoustic soul from the West Indies.
